

Douglas Laing & Co was Awarded a Gold Medal at the 2010 International Whisky Competition in Chicago.

April 22, 2010

Douglas Laing & Co won a Gold in the “Young Whisky” category.

CHICAGO: April 22, 2010 - Douglas Laing & Co from Glasgow, Scotland, was awarded the Gold medal for its Big Peat Vatted Islay Malt, at the 2010 International Whisky Competition, held last week in Chicago.

The distillery produces premium blended scotch whiskies, with a full range of single malts, specialists, and blends.

About International Whisky Competition

International Whisky Competition is organizing an annual world-class whisky competition. Our goal is to bring whiskies from around the world to be tasted and rated by a panel of judges in an annual event. The International Whisky Competition attracts whisky lovers from around the world via the web and allows fans to vote for their favorite whisky of the competition. The company was founded in Canada in 2009 by three whisky connoisseurs. Its home page is www.whiskycompetition.com.

About Douglas Laing & Co

The Glasgow-based company was founded in 1948 by Fred Douglas Laing. Using the original blend specification handed down by generations, Douglas Laing and Co has expanded and their highly-rated ranges now regularly feature blends up to 25 years old. Its home page is www.douglaslaing.com.